

GIESEN

MARLBOROUGH SAUVIGNON BLANC

MARLBOROUGH, NEW ZEALAND

Penguin Best New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc

Fresh and exotic, this has some betel leaf and shaved fennel, fresh zesty citrus fruit aromas and lime juice. The palate delivers all the tropical fruit you could ever wish for, intense passionfruit flavour; they've struck the right deal between acidity and sugar, long fruit finish.

Alc./Vol. 13% Drink: Now Closure - Screwcap

Imported Whites - Bloody Good

There's a reason that this is one of the best-selling of the Marlborough sauvignons: it's a great example of the style and has excellent fruit definition. Crammed with ripe, intense gooseberry and lychee flavours and finishing with a burst of tingling passionfruit. Nicely clean cut and refreshing.

Wine for Drinking Now

Occupying the northern tip of New Zealand's South Island, Marlborough is home to one of the world's most distinctive wine styles. Love it or hate it, it's 20 years since Marlborough Sauvignon first came into our lives and it's now well and truly a household name.

This stylish example from Giesen comes from the stony soils of Rapaura within the Wairau Valley - home to many of Marlborough's finest examples of Sauvignon Blanc. A big sniff will reveal classic grapefruit, gooseberry, and mineral character, while the palate is dry, tight, and balanced beautifully by mouthwatering acidity and great length of flavour.

